

Call for Applicants for a Scholarship to SOLARPOWER INTERNATIONAL (SPI) Conference 2019

Sponsored by the San Diego Chapter of the Women of Renewable Industries and Sustainable Energy

WRISE San Diego will be providing a full scholarship to the SPI Conference, Sept 23-26, 2019 in Salt Lake City, Utah. If you are or aspire to be a solar power energy professional and are based in Southern California, this is a great opportunity to attend the largest national solar trade show of the year. The scholarship will include one full conference pass and a per diem allowance to cover meals and lodging for the full event, including transportation costs.

How to apply

Please provide a short essay (1-page minimum) describing:

- Why you are interested in attending the SPI conference
- What you plan to achieve by attending
- How your attendance will further the mission of women working in the field of solar power energy

Please also provide your name, current job/title, educational background as well as an email address where we can reach you.

Applications are to be sent via email to jennifer.peterson@nv5.com by August 10, 2019. The scholarship recipient will be notified early August with an announcement published across the WRISE network by early September.

Who can apply

Any person currently residing in Southern California working on a college degree prior to entering the solar power energy industry, or a professional either currently working or interested in working in the solar power energy industry. No past recipients may apply.

Recipient Obligations

The scholarship recipient will be expected to complete the following:

- Attend the SPI 2019 Conference
- Donate at least 2 hours of time supporting WRISE at the event (if needed)
- Provide a verbal and written summary of achievements at the show within a month after the event. This can be in person at a WRISE meeting or by attending a WRISE San Diego Steering Committee call.
- Allow use of your professional photo and report for our sponsors and future recipients.
-

We look forward to receiving your application!

Women of Renewable Industries and Sustainable Energy San Diego Steering Committee